October's thought of the month: Always be kinder than necessary. Everyone you meet is fighting some kind of battle.

Summer is now behind. Autumn is here bringing with it cooler temps, a gazillion leaves turning color and then falling in your yards. Have fun trying to keep the yards clean. RIDERS, watch for wet leaves. Always be on the lookout.

While the next round of Post 10 officer elections is several months away, now is the time to give a lot of thought to getting more involved with the Post's management. Known projected vacancies as of now include Finance and Adjutant. As for getting involved, I solicit any ideas that could bring in new members.

October is Volunteer Month. If you have a particular interest or idea on how to make Post 10 a better place. Speak up. Offer to help Get It Done. All ideas are welcomed.

Last thought: Toys For Tots officially starts 1 October. I have already reached out to one of the local coordinators for support material. Be generous. Help a young child have a wonderful Christmas.

Youngkin signs tax relief for Virginia veterans at Quantico Corporate Center

Virginia Governor Glenn Youngkin (R) came to the crossroads of the Marine Corps to sign new legislation giving veterans a break on their annual income tax.

September 9, 2022
PotomacLocalNews.com

The governor signed two identical pieces of legislation, HB 1128 and SB 528, which will exempt up to $40,000 of veteran retirement pay from taxes and prioritize Virginia's Military and Veteran Community.

"When I had the great privilege of being hired by all of you, we expressed a great series of commitments, and you're at the top of the list of that commitment: to go work on a bi-partisan basis to make Virginia the most military and veteran-friendly state in America," said Youngkin.

A crowd of more than 100 people, many of the veterans, gathered at Patricio Enterprises Inc. at Quantico Corporate Center in Stafford County to watch the bill signing. Youngkin's visit was the second time in less than two weeks, following an event at Colonial Forge High School on September 1, where he signed executive order loosening the hiring requirements for new teachers.

State Senator Bryce Reeves (R-Spotsylvania) and Delegate John McGuire (R-Goochland) carried the bills across the finish line. McGuire said many veterans have moved from Virginia to North Carolina, which does not tax veterans' benefits, and that he hopes Virginia, eventually, will end the practice altogether.

A Cardinal News report notes Northern Virginia is leading the state's population loss, noting Fairfax and Prince William counties as the two largest counties no longer attracting new residents.

State Senator Jeremy McPike (D-Prince William) supported the legislation, which he hopes will reverse the trend of veterans leaving the state.

"Hey, come on back. If you're out of state, this is already a great place. One of the keys is having a community of veterans. VFW Post 1503, right up the road in Dale City, is the largest in the world, and I think it's important that veterans know there's a strong base of veterans here," McPike told Potomac Local News.

Reeves called the legislation a stepping stone in caring for the state's veterans. He said the state needs to do more to help former service members transition into civilian life.

"We still have a lot of broken sailors, soldiers, airmen, marines, coast guard, and they need us," said Reeves.

The region will soon be home to two new federal veterans' healthcare facilities. In Spotsylvania, The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs is building a four-story, 450,000-square-foot clinic on a 48-acre at U.S. Route 1 at Hood Drive, opening next year.

At Vint Hill in Fauquier County, the Virginia Department of Veterans Affairs will open a 128-bed senior care facility next year that will feature all private rooms organized into households and neighborhoods that surround a central community center.

Quantico Corporate Center is a business park near the Marine Corps Base that is home to the Marine Corps Officers Candidate School, which commissions Marine officers.

Remember to renew on-line you will need to have or create an account on MyLegion.org. Online renewals can also print out a new membership card on-line. 1. Online at www.mylegion.org. You can use a credit card online and set-up automatic yearly renewal with your credit card. You can also update your profile information: address and phone number. You need your permanent membership ID number to start an account at mylegion.org. If you have a hand written card, you probably have a temporary number. Email me for your permanent number.
2. By mail. If you've received your renewal request from National Headquarters, mail it to Post 10 at 9950 Cockrell Road, Manassas, VA 20110 attn: Post 10 Membership. If you haven't received a form from National Headquarters, send a check, and a note with your name, ID number, address, email and phone number.
3. In person. Stop by Post 10 and ask the bartender for a membership envelope, fill out the envelope, include your membership number and dues.
4. Legion dues are $35.00 and your new 2022 membership card will be mailed to you. Please provide your address, email and phone number. It's important to be able to contact you. Living with functional disabilities can negatively impact a Veteran's ability to pursue meaningful art, recreation, sports activities, and other hobbies, which can negatively affect a Veteran's well-being. Specific disabilities include cognitive, hearing and vision disabilities, mobility, self-care and independent living.

It is very important that you know that you must sign and complete a "Appointment of Veterans Service Organization as Claimant's Representative (also called "power of attorney" form). ### Don't Bring Up a Problem Unless You Have a Solution:

There's a rule out there, circulated widely as conventional wisdom, that you should never bring up a problem unless you have a proposed solution and are willing to participate in the resolution.

I was taught this rule in my youth. So, when I had a complaint, I talked to the Commander, then Toni Barber, and worked out a solution.

The Problem: The seat covers on the Jeep were worn and tattered and the canvas roof was in the shed, moth eaten.

The Solution: Fundraisers on Friday nights to cover the costs for new seat covers and a fabric roof for the Jeep.

The fundraisers continued. Next came the new window treatments in the Hall. We, the Ladies of the Auxiliary, worked hard to raise the money to fund the solutions. Additionally, there were many Post 10 members involved in seeing each of these solutions to the end.

Let's keep our Post a happy place to come together, relax, and have good times. If you see a problem or you don't like something, think before you speak. And when you do speak, talk about your idea of how to resolve the problem and how you intend to participate in the resolution.

We all love our Post 10, so do your part to help make it a better place. Your work will be greatly appreciated. (Not a sermon, just a thought.)

Did you get an email saying your personal info is for sale on the dark web? Some emails list the stolen information, like all or part of the person's Social Security number, date of birth, and driver's license number. If you've gotten one of these emails, take steps to help protect yourself against financial loss from identity theft.

Don't click a link or use a phone number in the message. It could be a "phishing" email, designed to trick you into disclosing sensitive information to scammers. If you think the message is legit — for example, if you have a credit monitoring service or a credit card with a company that monitors the dark web — contact the company using a website or phone number that you know is real.

Change your passwords to secure your accounts. Start by changing the passwords on your email accounts. Email accounts often are the weak link in online security because password resets for other accounts go to your email. If your email account password has become known, then an identity thief can log into your account and intercept your password reset emails.

Check your credit reports. After securing your accounts, make sure nobody has opened new accounts using your information. Visit AnnualCreditReport.com to get an annual free credit report from each of the three nationwide credit bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. Through December 2023, you can get a free credit report every week from each of them at the website. If you find an account or transaction you don't recognize, visit IdentityTheft.gov to report the identity theft and get a personal recovery plan.

Consider freezing your credit. A credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, is free to place and remove and is the best way to protect against an identity thief opening new accounts in your name. Alternatively, place a free fraud alert on your credit to make it more difficult for an identity thief to get new credit in your name.

Visit IdentityTheft.gov/databreach for more steps to take, depending on what information was exposed. And, if you get one of these emails, please tell us at ReportFraud.ftc.gov.
